

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

ATLANTA, GA. FRIDAY MORNING NOVEMBER 19, 1866

PRICE FIVE CENTS

ands of the Trade!

ING FOR BOYS!

RE RIGETI

the season in our Tailoring in the selection of this stock.

BROS.
TAILORS,
ALL STREET.

NE WORKS
Capacity 500 feet per day.

ERS AND GEARING
parts of ENGINES, BOILERS, STAMP
COMBINS, TAILOR & CO.

S. & CO.
Atlanta, Ga.

EMENT COMPANY.
generally that we have contracted with we are now prepared to fill orders from

Guano, Buffalo Bone Guan
direct to them.
Guano Farm Improvement Co.

SONS

THE FAMOUS

L WE HAVE

and there is none better.
Contractors and Builders in—

CYPRESSHILLING,

STOVE FLUES,

FIRE BRICK AND FIRE CLAY

House, Atlanta, Ga.

Work
MEANS STREET,
Telephone 338

WORKS.

ATLANTA, GA.

ALL ITS BRANCHES

from their place BY SPECIAL

RESPONDENCE SOLICITED.

KLE & CO.,

Dealers in umps, Tanks Etc.

WINKLE & CO.

BOX 82, ATLANTA, GA.

HOUSE IN THE STATE

N BROS.

Whitehall St.

GEORGIA:

ITTERS,

FURNISHERS

every stitch of Cloth

of us and save the

BALTIMORE, MD.

Cor. 7th and E. Streets

Washington, D. C.

NE. NO. 207

IN MOURNING AGAIN.

DEATH OF EX-PRESIDENT CHESTER A. ARTHUR.

An Apoplectic Stroke Comes Upon Him in the Night, From Which He Never Rallies—How the News of His Death Was Received Preparations for the Funeral.

NEW YORK, November 18.—Ex-President Chester A. Arthur died at 5 o'clock this morning at his residence, 123 Lexington avenue. He had been ill for some time from a complication of diseases, principally kidney affection. He spent the summer at a watering place, and it was supposed that this had strengthened somewhat his enfeebled condition. His death was unexpected, it not being supposed outside his household he was in any immediate danger.

As soon as the news of Mr. Arthur's death was made public many flags on public and private buildings were placed at half mast. Mr. Arthur had lived at No. 123 Lexington avenue for twenty years or more. A stroke of apoplexy, sudden, but wholly unexpected, overcame his physician, took him from his bed.

The stroke came in his sleep between Tuesday night and Wednesday morning and he did not rally thereafter. His death was sudden, but wholly unexpected.

The physician, to whom his family had turned for advice, found that his stroke was apoplectic, and that his health had not improved during his stay at New York six weeks ago, and at his return, on October 1, he was no better than when he left the city. As time passed no permanent improvement came, and the physician found some such stroke taken on by him as he assumed. In his enfeebled condition a slight stroke of apoplexy would prove fatal to the once robust patient. With the beginning of the present week a marked change for the better set in. Tuesday the ex-president felt better and stronger than at any time since he was taken sick, and commented hopefully upon his recovery.

THE HOUR OF DEATH.

It was after midnight when his attendant found him in his bed room, and nothing was heard of him during the early morning hours. He was not disturbed until his attendant entered his room at eight o'clock yesterday morning. He found Mr. Arthur lying on his side upon a heavily feathered bed.

The family, answered his summons, and he failed to elicit any sign of consciousness or recognition from the ex-president. In alarm they summoned his physician, Dr. George A. Peters, who has been in attendance upon Mr. Arthur throughout his illness, and who responded promptly and gallantly. He was summoned to the ex-president's room, and a small blood vessel in the brain had burst and paralysis of the right side caused. From the moment of discovery made all hope was known to be vain, but efforts were spared to bring the patient back to consciousness. They were all alike silent.

Mr. Arthur lay motionless and speechless the day. He knew what was going on about him, for he squeezed his doctor's hand and put out his tongue partially when asked to do so, but he never spoke or gave any other sign of consciousness. Last night at six o'clock he seemed pale, more difficult respiration, and other signs of approaching death. His eyes were half closed, and the pupils of the eyes were dilated. The death of President Arthur was the only subject of discussion at the cabinet meeting. It was agreed to issue an executive order announcing the death of the ex-president, and directing public buildings to be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days, and also that public business be suspended on the day set apart for the funeral.

THE PRESIDENT'S PROCLAMATION.

President Cleveland today issued a proclamation announcing the death of ex-President Arthur, and the court adjourned until Monday next in respect to the deceased.

Mr. Cleveland, in his official capacity, will make a formal announcement of the death of the ex-president to the supreme court of the United States.

President Cleveland and several of the members of the cabinet will leave here Friday night for New York to attend the funeral of President Arthur. Senator Sherman will appoint a committee of senators to attend the funeral.

THE EX-PRESIDENT'S SICKNESS.

On October 1, Arthur was found at his office today. He said: "Mr. Arthur died of cerebral apoplexy; it is the immediate cause. It was one of the ways in which his trouble might terminate at any time. To that extent it was not unexpected. For two or three years Mr. Arthur had suffered from an enlarged and enfeebled heart, and the variety of symptoms that alarmed his friends were signs of this condition. He had had many trouble—Bright's disease—but it was not the cause of his death. A man of less powerful constitution would have succumbed much sooner. His great physical strength failed him through as far as this."

The fact of the rapidly waning life of Mr. Arthur was not made public until it was not more than hours after his death, a fact which became known. Flags were placed at No. 123 on the custom house, Tribune building, and on most of the public and mercantile buildings.

By command of Lieutenant General Sheridan, G. C. DRUM, Adjutant General.

A similar order will be issued by the secretary of the navy, providing for the due observance of the forms of mourning at the navy yards and stations. The department of state will also send out a formal notice to the ex-president's widow, all United States consuls and diplomatic representatives.

The senators below named will attend ex-President Arthur's funeral on behalf of the senate: John Sherman, George F. Edmunds, John A. Logan, William B. Allison, M. C. Butler, James D. Cameron, D. W. Voorhees, Warner Miller, George G. Vest, A. P. Gorman, J. R. Hawley and James K. Jones.

THE OFFICIAL RETURNS.

California Legislature Democratic on Joint Ballot Returns.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 18.—Official returns from all the counties in the state, with semi-official counts in San Francisco, give Bartlett, democrat, a plurality for governor of 632 over Swett, republican. The republicans have elected Lieutenant governor, attorney general, superintendent of public instruction, surveyor general, and two justices of the supreme court. The democrats elected secretary of state, controller, treasurer, clerk of the supreme court and one justice of the supreme court. The republicans have elected four congressmen and the democrats two. In the state senate the democrats have a majority of twelve. In the assembly the republicans have a majority of two, leaving the democrats a majority of ten in joint ballot.

THE RESULT IN INDIANA.

INDIANAPOLIS, November 18.—Official returns of the recent election show the following result on the state ticket: Robertson, republican, for Lieutenant governor, 231,922; Nelson, democrat, 228,603; Gale, prohibitionist, 9,185; Pope, national, 1,624. Robertson's plurality is 3,319. LaFayette, republican candidate for superintendent of public instruction, leads his ticket with 234,269 votes.

A New Surgeon-General.

In preparing arrangements for the funeral it was determined to change the date of the service until the morning of Monday, November 22, in order to allow time for the arrival of the members of the family and others of their friends, who have telegraphed their desire to be present at the obsequies.

Rev. Dr. Parker Morris will officiate at the funeral, which is to be held on Monday morning at 10 o'clock precisely, in the church of the First Baptist, Fifth avenue and Forty Fifth street.

Rev. Dr. Parker Morris will officiate at the funeral. After consulting Major General Schofield called at the house and tendered the services of his military skill.

Major General Schofield called at the house and tendered the services of his military skill.

After consulting

Mr. McEvoy, Arthur's brother-in-law, the coroner of Hon. W. H. Moore, was directed to report to Washington immediately.

The number of

has not been decided on.

Very many telegrams of condolence have been received by the family today.

GOVERNOR HILL'S ORDER.

ALBANY, N. Y., November 18.—Governor Hill has issued an order that flags be placed at all armories in the state out of respect for ex-President Arthur. He has also issued a proclamation formally announcing Mr. Arthur's death, in which he says:

"By the death of a distinguished citizen, the people of this state are deeply grieved.

Chester Alan Arthur entered our state, at his residence in New York city, early this morning. He had always made his home within our state, and had been a member of our legislature, and held places of official distinction. As a citizen of New York state, he was elected vice-president by the people of that state.

Upon the death of President Arthur, he became President, and was elected vice-president by succession, and died, and became himself and with honor to the country, he filled the office with credit and honor.

He died without abuse of the name of his

man. Remembering the services and admiring

the character of President Arthur, it is fitting that we should express our sorrow at his death, and show respect for the high official position which he held.

The people of this state are deeply grieved

at the death of a distinguished citizen, the people

of this state are deeply grieved.

He died without abuse of the name of his

man. Remembering the services and admiring

the character of President Arthur, it is fitting

that we should express our sorrow at his death, and show respect for the high official position which he held.

The people of this state are deeply grieved

at the death of a distinguished citizen, the people

of this state are deeply grieved.

He died without abuse of the name of his

man. Remembering the services and admiring

the character of President Arthur, it is fitting

that we should express our sorrow at his death, and show respect for the high official

position which he held.

The people of this state are deeply grieved

at the death of a distinguished citizen, the people

of this state are deeply grieved.

He died without abuse of the name of his

man. Remembering the services and admiring

the character of President Arthur, it is fitting

that we should express our sorrow at his death, and show respect for the high official

position which he held.

The people of this state are deeply grieved

at the death of a distinguished citizen, the people

of this state are deeply grieved.

He died without abuse of the name of his

man. Remembering the services and admiring

the character of President Arthur, it is fitting

that we should express our sorrow at his death, and show respect for the high official

position which he held.

The people of this state are deeply grieved

at the death of a distinguished citizen, the people

of this state are deeply grieved.

He died without abuse of the name of his

man. Remembering the services and admiring

the character of President Arthur, it is fitting

that we should express our sorrow at his death, and show respect for the high official

position which he held.

The people of this state are deeply grieved

at the death of a distinguished citizen, the people

of this state are deeply grieved.

He died without abuse of the name of his

man. Remembering the services and admiring

the character of President Arthur, it is fitting that we should express our sorrow at his </div

BAFFLED BURGLARS.

TRY TO VAIN TO BREAK OPEN A SAFE.

George W. Case, of Macon, the Victim—A Frightened Young Man—Fateful Occasions—Government Building—The Courts—Our House Burned—Other News.

MACON, Ga., November 18.—[Special.]—This morning when Mr. William Case, of the marble works, came to the office on Plum street, he was somewhat taken aback by finding the rear door broken open. The facing had been pried off so that the lock gave way, and the shutter was pulled out and a linen duster stuffed in the crack. Inside Mr. Case found things in a disheveled condition.

The safe was battered and broken, the combination knob broken off, and the pins of the hinge driven out.

The burglars appeared to have attacked the safe with a heavy hammer, and worked in vain to effect an entrance. The safe was too strong, however, and they had to give up in disgust. They broke the lock of the front door to get the pin that the knaps work on, with which to punch out the hinge pins of the safe.

Papers were scattered all over the room. The safe cannot be opened until an expert can be obtained, and it will cost $75 or $100 to mend it. There is not the slightest clue to the perpetrators.

A Frightened Man.

MACON, Ga., November 18.—[Special.]—Last night Mr. William Case, who keeps a store on the corner of Broad and Arch streets, was startled by the servant girl calling out, "Thieves in the room!" The room is in the rear of the building, and picking up a large knife he walked in and found a young man pale with fright, and the perspiration standing out on his brow. "Kill me, sir, kill me, and then let Mr. Williams see how excited he was, proceed to calm his fears so as to give him a chance to explain matters. After cooling down a little the man said his name was Sainsbury, and that he was coming down the street when he met three men who threatened to kill him. Having a bottle of medicine in his hand he held it up and cried out, "Look at his pistol!" He said he began to try to reason with them, and finally broke away in a dead run, darting into Mr. Williams's house for protection. He was afraid to go home alone, and an officer was sent for, and after a thorough search for the men, who were nowhere to be found, he was carried home.

The Government Building.

MACON, Ga., November 18.—[Special.]—Work was begun on the walls of the new government building this morning, and a force of bricklayers were set to work. There are tons of broken stone, sand, brick and other material on hand, and the work will be pushed ahead to completion.

Festival Occasions.

MACON, Ga., November 18.—[Special.]—Notwithstanding the fact that last night was a dirty, muddy night, the crowd at the Floyd Hills was fair, and the occasion one of the pleasant ones of the season. The new armory is just the thing for dancing, and the decorations of the hall are very handsome.

Mr. B. Heidinger invited a large party of friends to be present at his opening last night. The lunch was magnificent, and everybody had a good time.

Tonight at the National hotel a ball was given. The affair was a fine success, and those present were delighted.

A Big Case.

MACON, Ga., November 18.—[Special.]—United States court has not been adjourned, but Judge Speer is in Savannah. He will be in Macon to-morrow for the trial of the two big cases of the Mutual Life Insurance association vs. Sallie Watson. The action is brought to determine the rightful ownership of a $3000 policy which was taken out by Mrs. Watson's husband, and since his death she has claimed the money for debts contracted by Watson. The money has been paid into court, and it only remains for the court to decide the proper ownership. It is termed an inter-spouse.

Home Burned.

MACON, Ga., November 18.—[Special.]—News has reached this place that the ginseng house of Skelton Naples, an old Macon man, was burned to the ground, on Sunday last. This makes the fourth ginseng for that county within the last ten days.

An Educated Dog.

MACON, Ga., November 18.—[Special.]—The colored proprietor of "The Ranch," a fourth street saloon, has an educated dog. His educatee is a small dog, trained to bark for him coats and brass buttons. He will soon be a policeman the moment he opens the door, and will growl at every one of them. He pays no attention to ordinary customers but warns his boss when cops come in.

Resigned.

MACON, Ga., November 18.—[Special.]—Today at 11 a.m. the funeral of Fred Jordan occurred at the East Macon Baptist church, Rev. Dr. Warren officiating. The pallbearers were James E. George, Wm. Sidney, Wm. W. Wade, George Lumpkin, and Mr. Smith. Mr. W. H. Peavy, an old and respected citizen of Hinds county, died at Bremen today. He died of pneumonia. He was about sixty years old.

The funeral of Miss Grace Munro Crutchfield occurred at the Crutchfield residence today, Rev. Mr. Winchester officiating. The remains were buried at the cemetery. The pallbearers were J. C. Bannan, A. R. Freeman, E. W. Curridge, Jr., Paul Williamson, R. H. Sims and John Hoge. The services were very beautiful.

Big Bicycling.

MACON, Ga., November 18.—[Special.]—Externally, the man in waving circles. There is arranged a big race for Saturday, the 25th, between Miss Ella Van Buren, champion female bicyclist of America, and Mr. Robert A. Brantley, of Macon. Brantley is considered here the fastest in the state. The race is to be fifty miles, and will be a big event.

Resigned.

MACON, Ga., November 18.—[Special.]—Officer Bennett Jones handed in his resignation to the chief of police this morning. Mr. Jones has made a faithful and efficient officer and his loss will be felt on the force.

Social Occasions.

MACON, Ga., November 18.—[Special.]—To-night at the Brown house a German was given in honor of Mrs. Sanders. P. Jones, Mrs. Miss Bondie Barrett, of Columbus, Ga. Mrs. Jones is now a resident of Louisville, Ky. The gathering was select, and the affair was most enjoyable.

At Mr. Bob Reddy's home, in East Macon, an entertainment was given to the Sunday school children. It was very pleasant and all enjoyed themselves.

Odeons and Etc.

MACON, Ga., November 18.—[Special.]—B. W. Wren is in Macon, in the interest of the East Tennessee road. He has grand union over passengers for all through passengers in Macon.

A. W. Ross, president J. G. Blount, first vice president, and G. S. St. John, vice president; A. E. Freeman, secretary and C. B. Ladd, treasurer. Mrs. Maria Payton, wife of the late Pat Payton, has applied to Judge McManus, to have the will of her husband, Pat Payton, admitted to probate. The hearing is set for the first Monday in December. Eight thousand dollars worth of property is involved.

The county commissioners decided today that the mine belonging to John Marion of Houston county, which fell through a hole in the ceiling.

THIRTY YEARS OF LAW.

A CURIOUS STORY TOLD FROM MADISON.

How Alfred Eubanks Made a Fortune, and Left it to His Brothers—A Division of Feeling Causes a Postponement of Payment, When the Fortune Dissipates, Etc.

MADISON, Ga., November 18.—[Special.]—The weather continues to be a wind that blows like fine blizzards. It has been very cold all day.

The Methodist publication committee have been busy in the affairs of the Wabash and Erie Advocate in Macon.

The Superior court is still engaged in the Mary S. Slocum case, and the trial of the Mary Slocum case will begin tomorrow—Beacon & Rutherford for the plaintiff and Lyons & Gresham for the defense.

Judge McManus is investigating to determine the East Macon mob that hung Jesus Wright, the painter, just for fun, last week.

The burglars have been making Cotton assume possible. So far, their work is done in a jam-up manner.

Personal Gossip.

MACON, Ga., November 18.—[Special.]—Mr. Clifford Anderson, of Atlanta, is visiting Macon. Jack Polk, the baseball manager, is home again. Mr. W. M. Gordon comes down light we will have next season.

Teaberry Newby, of Twiggs, is in the barracks for disorderly conduct.

Banks Winter will be here with Thatcher, Primeiro & West's ministers Saturday.

A WHIPPING BEE.

Five Little Darbies Relieved from the Guard House With Good Whippings.

From the Albany, Ga. News.

There was a regular whipping bee in the city guard house yesterday afternoon.

Yesterday morning Policeman James arrested five little negroes and locked them up for gambling. Their game was something on the order of marbles, except that dimes, nickels and buttons were used for stakes—so-called a species of inventio gambling growing out of "whining" played with marbles.

When Officer Kemp went on duty at 1 o'clock yesterday and learned that there were five little darbies in the guard house, he summoned their respective parents to meet him at the guard house at a certain hour. The mothers of all the boys came and responded, but this boy's big sister was on hand.

Mr. Kemp had a good keen rawhide, and when the mothers of the boys had assembled he told them that he would release the prisoners upon condition that each one receive a good whipping. The women all readily agreed to this, and the boys were released.

The trial of the unfortunate was legitimate. The war prevented further settlement until its close, when the original $30,000 was reduced to $3,000. This three thousand had to be collected out of the only solvent security on the list, who fought his collection in the courts until this year, when he had to pay over, instead of the original three thousand, six thousand in addition as interest.

Within that thirty years the estate has been in the hands of three separate administrators; all the five full-blood brothers are dead as well as the four lawyers originally retained. Even under the settlement thus reached the three surviving half brothers will only get $200 apiece, as all the rest will go to the lawyers.

Reaching into South Georgia.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., November 18.—[Special.]—Up to Monday last The Constitution reached this place the evening after publication.

The following correspondence was received by Governor Gordon:

FAYETTEVILLE, Ga., November 18.—Gov. Gordon, Atlanta, Ga., dear Sir: At a meeting of the Southern States Forestry congress, held last December at Finch Springs, Fla., a resolution was passed to send a delegation to the congress to memorialize the governors of the southern states to appoint "Arbor Days" for each state.

In obedience to this resolution, and in furtherance of the general subject of forestry, I therefore, in behalf of the Southern States Forestry congress, propose to call a meeting of the governors of the southern states to appoint "Arbor Days" for each state.

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to the fact that each state has a day set aside for the planting of trees, and that each state is to have its own "Arbor Day."

I call your attention to

THE CONSTITUTION.
PUBLISHED DAILY AND WEEKLY,

ATLANTA, GEORGIA.

THE DAILY CONSTITUTION IS PUBLISHED EVERY DAY IN THE WEEK, AND IS DELIVERED BY CARRIERS IN THE CITY, OR MAILED, POSTAGE FREE, AT $1.00 PER MONTH, $2.00 FOR THREE MONTHS, $5.00 FOR SIX MONTHS, OR $10.00 A YEAR.

THE CONSTITUTION IS FOR SALE ON ALL TRAINS LEAVING OUT OF ATLANTA, AND AT NEWS STANDS IN THE PRINCIPAL SOUTHERN CITIES.

ADVERTISING RATES DEFEND ON LOCATION IN THE PAPER, AND WILL BE FURNISHED ON APPLICATION.

CORRESPONDENCE CONTAINING IMPORTANT NEWS SOLICITED FROM ALL PARTS OF THE COUNTRY.

ADDRESS ALL LETTERS AND TELEGRAMS, AND MAKE ALL DRAFTS OR CHECKS PAYABLE TO

THE CONSTITUTION,

Atlanta, Ga.

General Eastern Agent, J. J. FLYNN,
23 Park Row, New York City.

ATLANTA, GA., NOVEMBER 19, 1886.

Indications for Atlanta
(taken at 1 o'clock, a. m.)
Fair, slightly warmer weather.
Blue, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida and Mississippi; fair weather; slightly warmer; westerly; north-westerly winds.

WIND storms passed over Pennsylvania and New Jersey yesterday and did great damage. No loss of life is reported, however.

THE MEXICAN CENTRAL railway has discharged every passenger conductor on its line in charge of not making proper returns.

GENERAL KAULBAUER has been ordered by the czar to withdraw from Bulgaria at once, in case the demand for the punishment of the officers who arrested Russians at Philippopolis is not complied with.

The effect of litigation is well illustrated in the Eubanks estate, now being closed out in Morgan county. An estate of $20,000 tied up for thirty years by litigation, will now net only $200 a piece to the three surviving heirs.

No more popular appointment to office was ever made than that of John McIntosh Kell to be adjutant general on Governor Gordon's staff. A man whose modesty is equal to his bravery, the great heart of the people went out toward him in such manner as to leave not a mistake of its meaning.

PRESIDENT RAOUF, of the Central road, has issued a circular, calling upon all stockholders who have confidence in his management, either to be present at the stockholders' convention, or to send their proxies to those in interest. It begins to look as though there will be a sharp fight for the management.

The example of Atlanta in compromising its municipal campaign, is finding imitators. In America there are three candidates for the mayoralty. The caucaus is in danger of running into personalities. To settle this matter a mass meeting of citizens has been called, when the conservatism of the people will set all things right.

One Outcome of Socialism.

Dr. and Mrs. Aveling, the distinguished English socialists now visiting this country, have been well received and eloquently heard. In Chicago, however, the Avelings were called upon to answer some very searching questions, and their answers constitute as strong an arraignment of socialism as could be desired by the opponents of that doctrine.

When asked what effect socialism would have upon the home, the Avelings admitted that polygamy might be one of the results. Mrs. Aveling, who is the daughter of Karl Marx, frankly said that there would be no bond, no obligation holding a man and woman together; that a man could have one wife or a dozen, and leave them when he pleased; that a woman would have equal freedom in selecting husbands by the dozen, and leaving them; in short, she said that the doctrine of elective affinities would prevail.

It will be seen from these declarations of the recognized apostles of socialism that the new ism does not strike at property alone. It strikes at the home by striking at the purity of woman.

Perhaps it is fortunate that the Avelings have unmasks their bestial system. The statement of such abhorrent conditions is enough in any Christian land to array the people solidly against them. If Americans are loyal to anything it is to the American home, and they will fight to the bitter end the public enemies who would destroy it. There is little danger of the progress of the ideas promulgated by the Avelings, but the fact that such ideas are publicly discussed does not speak well for the moral tone of the age in which we live. It is like playing with fire to fool with some of these new ideas. They should be let alone.

The Duty of Every Citizen.

It is a small thing to do, stepping into an office and registering your name as a voter. And yet it is one of the most important things to do.

The man who does not register disfranchises himself. Wars have been fought for very much less than the right to vote, and yet thousands of men will voluntarily disfranchise themselves, who would fight before they would permit any one else to disfranchise them.

A Bar Maid's Bonanza.

We must throw our novel overboard and look to the daily newspapers for romance. Fiction is tame and commonplace by the side of the melodramas of real life.

Yesterday a brief mention was made in these columns of the peculiar will of Don Juan Pietro Terry. It turns out that the will is more interesting than the will. In fact she is a quaint package of sensations.

Twelve years ago this woman was a bouncing bar maid in Liverpool. She dispensed gin fizzes and killing glances with a fascinating abandon that knocked her admirers silly, if we may be allowed to drop into the expressive slang of the period. Among the patrons of gin fizzes at that time was one Charles Bullard, alias Charles Wells, the notorious bank robber. Bullard found the British blonde very much to his taste and married her. The honeymoon was rudely shattered by Bullard's conviction in the case of the Leytonstone, Mass., bank robbery. He was tucked away in prison for a term of seven years, and his bride was left with the world before her.

Now, the whole duty of the hour is in the one word, "Register!" If the people register, and thus qualify themselves to vote, they will not be the slightest trouble. If they not, they will find on election day that they have tied their own hands and are unable to enforce the compact to which they stand pledged. It is stated that there were three times as many voters registered on the day following our editorial of Wednesday, as on any other previous day. If the same result follows this editorial, THE CONSTITUTION will feel that it has never done Atlanta better service than in urging the people to register, and to register at once, so that they will be qualified to vote in the coming election.

The Late President Arthur.

The death of President Arthur carries with it a shock of surprise. Although an invalid during the last two years of his life, the reports of the improvement in the patient's health during the past few months have led the public to hope for his recovery.

It is difficult to form a just estimate of one whose greatest strength was in his marked conservative bias. Mr. Arthur was never a party leader. He commanded the respect of his party, but never its enthusiasm.

During his term of office he seemed singularly devoid of ambition. He never posed as a statesman. He was faithful to the great trust delegated to him, and avoided extremes. As the successor of the murdered Garfield his position was a trying one, but he acquitted himself in a manner that drew words of praise from both friends and opponents.

All through his life he was loyal to his friends, a frank, bold enemy, and a patriotic American. His death will be sincerely mourned by the nation at large, and posterity will honor his memory.

A Case for Executive Clemency.

A case of peculiar hardship is reported from Chatham, North Carolina. It seems that one of the rural denizens of that locality was recently convicted of the offense of "swapping wives" with another man.

The culprit found it useless to plead ignorance of the statute in such cases made and provided. The majority of the law, public morality and all that sort of thing had to be maintained, and a verdict of guilty was the result.

Now comes the pitiful part of the story. The defendant filed an exculpatory affidavit, stating that he was his "first swap," and, besides, he had received only $1.50 to boot.

It is almost incredible, but the flinty-hearted judge paid no attention whatever to the facts urged in mitigation of the offense. He imposed a heavy fine, with the alternative of the chain gang, and as the criminal happens to be in a state of financial collapse he is in imminent danger of having to serve out his term. Another horror stares the miserable man in the face. The wife who was "swapped off" by him has set up in business for herself, and it is understood that she proposes to be among the bidders for the lease of the services of her convict husband. The proverbial gallantry of the North Carolinians makes it a foregone conclusion that the lady will have no opposition, and it is equally certain that when she gets hold of her old man she will give him all sorts of a time.

Undoubtedly this is a case in which the governor of North Carolina should interfere. Even criminals under our free government are guaranteed protection from the infliction of cruel and unusual punishments, and this case certainly comes under that head.

In considering the matter the governor should also attach due weight to the plea of the prisoner that it was his "first swap," and that he received only $1.50 to boot.

The Knight of Labor in Chicago have passed resolutions condemning the sentence of the anarchists. The question is, can American afford to sympathize with the murderous anarchists in any shape or form? The Chicago knights are either very ignorant or they are very badly led.

JAMES ANTHONY FROUD confesses that his biography of Carlyle has been the torment and perplexity of a large portion of his life. This shows what a great man Carlyle was. He made himself and his wife miserable, and now has nearly wrecked James Anthony Froude. Our opinion is that Mr. Froude is too sensitive.

MR. TUKEY, of Weehawken, is near to a great sufferer at the hands of boycotters. He sympathized with the rich packers of Chicago and carried over a crowd of volunteers to help pickle pigs. The ungrateful capitalists, instead of giving Mr. Tukey a job as boss, put him to wheeling livers at $1.50 a day. Thereupon Mr. Tukey struck and pulled out for his old home in Weehawken. He was hooted at when he arrived, and his friends have forgotten him and inquire, with well feigned interest, concerning the identity of the "stranger." The barbers refuse to shave him, and he cannot borrow a match to light a cigarette. He feels like one person.

A den to get the recognition of the old fashioned game of hell and damnation. So put it this way: "If any man does hell in the eternal, conscious torment of the wicked, he living in mirr and happiness the while, he is a monster, and so to believing he brings children into life, the earth into existence, and so to the creation of thousand people. I consented to do so, provided that all clergymen could attend, and on the floor were, during my address, some one thousand preachers. After my address I answered questions, and one was concerning my view of eternal punishment. I saw that the question was directed to a den to get the recognition of the old fashioned game of hell and damnation. So put it this way: "If any man does hell in the eternal, conscious torment of the wicked, he living in mirr and happiness the while, he is a monster, and so to believing he brings children into life, the earth into existence, and so to the creation of thousand people. I consented to do so, provided that all clergymen could attend, and on the floor were, during my address, some one thousand preachers. After my address I answered questions, and one was concerning my view of eternal punishment. I saw that the question was directed to a den to get the recognition of the old fashioned game of hell and damnation. So put it this way: "If any man does hell in the eternal, conscious torment of the wicked, he living in mirr and happiness the while, he is a monster, and so to believing he brings children into life, the earth into existence, and so to the creation of thousand people. I consented to do so, provided that all clergymen could attend, and on the floor were, during my address, some one thousand preachers. After my address I answered questions, and one was concerning my view of eternal punishment. I saw that the question was directed to a den to get the recognition of the old fashioned game of hell and damnation. So put it this way: "If any man does hell in the eternal, conscious torment of the wicked, he living in mirr and happiness the while, he is a monster, and so to believing he brings children into life, the earth into existence, and so to the creation of thousand people. I consented to do so, provided that all clergymen could attend, and on the floor were, during my address, some one thousand preachers. After my address I answered questions, and one was concerning my view of eternal punishment. I saw that the question was directed to a den to get the recognition of the old fashioned game of hell and damnation. So put it this way: "If any man does hell in the eternal, conscious torment of the wicked, he living in mirr and happiness the while, he is a monster, and so to believing he brings children into life, the earth into existence, and so to the creation of thousand people. I consented to do so, provided that all clergymen could attend, and on the floor were, during my address, some one thousand preachers. After my address I answered questions, and one was concerning my view of eternal punishment. I saw that the question was directed to a den to get the recognition of the old fashioned game of hell and damnation. So put it this way: "If any man does hell in the eternal, conscious torment of the wicked, he living in mirr and happiness the while, he is a monster, and so to believing he brings children into life, the earth into existence, and so to the creation of thousand people. I consented to do so, provided that all clergymen could attend, and on the floor were, during my address, some one thousand preachers. After my address I answered questions, and one was concerning my view of eternal punishment. I saw that the question was directed to a den to get the recognition of the old fashioned game of hell and damnation. So put it this way: "If any man does hell in the eternal, conscious torment of the wicked, he living in mirr and happiness the while, he is a monster, and so to believing he brings children into life, the earth into existence, and so to the creation of thousand people. I consented to do so, provided that all clergymen could attend, and on the floor were, during my address, some one thousand preachers. After my address I answered questions, and one was concerning my view of eternal punishment. I saw that the question was directed to a den to get the recognition of the old fashioned game of hell and damnation. So put it this way: "If any man does hell in the eternal, conscious torment of the wicked, he living in mirr and happiness the while, he is a monster, and so to believing he brings children into life, the earth into existence, and so to the creation of thousand people. I consented to do so, provided that all clergymen could attend, and on the floor were, during my address, some one thousand preachers. After my address I answered questions, and one was concerning my view of eternal punishment. I saw that the question was directed to a den to get the recognition of the old fashioned game of hell and damnation. So put it this way: "If any man does hell in the eternal, conscious torment of the wicked, he living in mirr and happiness the while, he is a monster, and so to believing he brings children into life, the earth into existence, and so to the creation of thousand people. I consented to do so, provided that all clergymen could attend, and on the floor were, during my address, some one thousand preachers. After my address I answered questions, and one was concerning my view of eternal punishment. I saw that the question was directed to a den to get the recognition of the old fashioned game of hell and damnation. So put it this way: "If any man does hell in the eternal, conscious torment of the wicked, he living in mirr and happiness the while, he is a monster, and so to believing he brings children into life, the earth into existence, and so to the creation of thousand people. I consented to do so, provided that all clergymen could attend, and on the floor were, during my address, some one thousand preachers. After my address I answered questions, and one was concerning my view of eternal punishment. I saw that the question was directed to a den to get the recognition of the old fashioned game of hell and damnation. So put it this way: "If any man does hell in the eternal, conscious torment of the wicked, he living in mirr and happiness the while, he is a monster, and so to believing he brings children into life, the earth into existence, and so to the creation of thousand people. I consented to do so, provided that all clergymen could attend, and on the floor were, during my address, some one thousand preachers. After my address I answered questions, and one was concerning my view of eternal punishment. I saw that the question was directed to a den to get the recognition of the old fashioned game of hell and damnation. So put it this way: "If any man does hell in the eternal, conscious torment of the wicked, he living in mirr and happiness the while, he is a monster, and so to believing he brings children into life, the earth into existence, and so to the creation of thousand people. I consented to do so, provided that all clergymen could attend, and on the floor were, during my address, some one thousand preachers. After my address I answered questions, and one was concerning my view of eternal punishment. I saw that the question was directed to a den to get the recognition of the old fashioned game of hell and damnation. So put it this way: "If any man does hell in the eternal, conscious torment of the wicked, he living in mirr and happiness the while, he is a monster, and so to believing he brings children into life, the earth into existence, and so to the creation of thousand people. I consented to do so, provided that all clergymen could attend, and on the floor were, during my address, some one thousand preachers. After my address I answered questions, and one was concerning my view of eternal punishment. I saw that the question was directed to a den to get the recognition of the old fashioned game of hell and damnation. So put it this way: "If any man does hell in the eternal, conscious torment of the wicked, he living in mirr and happiness the while, he is a monster, and so to believing he brings children into life, the earth into existence, and so to the creation of thousand people. I consented to do so, provided that all clergymen could attend, and on the floor were, during my address, some one thousand preachers. After my address I answered questions, and one was concerning my view of eternal punishment. I saw that the question was directed to a den to get the recognition of the old fashioned game of hell and damnation. So put it this way: "If any man does hell in the eternal, conscious torment of the wicked, he living in mirr and happiness the while, he is a monster, and so to believing he brings children into life, the earth into existence, and so to the creation of thousand people. I consented to do so, provided that all clergymen could attend, and on the floor were, during my address, some one thousand preachers. After my address I answered questions, and one was concerning my view of eternal punishment. I saw that the question was directed to a den to get the recognition of the old fashioned game of hell and damnation. So put it this way: "If any man does hell in the eternal, conscious torment of the wicked, he living in mirr and happiness the while, he is a monster, and so to believing he brings children into life, the earth into existence, and so to the creation of thousand people. I consented to do so, provided that all clergymen could attend, and on the floor were, during my address, some one thousand preachers. After my address I answered questions, and one was concerning my view of eternal punishment. I saw that the question was directed to a den to get the recognition of the old fashioned game of hell and damnation. So put it this way: "If any man does hell in the eternal, conscious torment of the wicked, he living in mirr and happiness the while, he is a monster, and so to believing he brings children into life, the earth into existence, and so to the creation of thousand people. I consented to do so, provided that all clergymen could attend, and on the floor were, during my address, some one thousand preachers. After my address I answered questions, and one was concerning my view of eternal punishment. I saw that the question was directed to a den to get the recognition of the old fashioned game of hell and damnation. So put it this way: "If any man does hell in the eternal, conscious torment of the wicked, he living in mirr and happiness the while, he is a monster, and so to believing he brings children into life, the earth into existence, and so to the creation of thousand people. I consented to do so, provided that all clergymen could attend, and on the floor were, during my address, some one thousand preachers. After my address I answered questions, and one was concerning my view of eternal punishment. I saw that the question was directed to a den to get the recognition of the old fashioned game of hell and damnation. So put it this way: "If any man does hell in the eternal, conscious torment of the wicked, he living in mirr and happiness the while, he is a monster, and so to believing he brings children into life, the earth into existence, and so to the creation of thousand people. I consented to do so, provided that all clergymen could attend, and on the floor were, during my address, some one thousand preachers. After my address I answered questions, and one was concerning my view of eternal punishment. I saw that the question was directed to a den to get the recognition of the old fashioned game of hell and damnation. So put it this way: "If any man does hell in the eternal, conscious torment of the wicked, he living in mirr and happiness the while, he is a monster, and so to believing he brings children into life, the earth into existence, and so to the creation of thousand people. I consented to do so, provided that all clergymen could attend, and on the floor were, during my address, some one thousand preachers. After my address I answered questions, and one was concerning my view of eternal punishment. I saw that the question was directed to a den to get the recognition of the old fashioned game of hell and damnation. So put it this way: "If any man does hell in the eternal, conscious torment of the wicked, he living in mirr and happiness the while, he is a monster, and so to believing he brings children into life, the earth into existence, and so to the creation of thousand people. I consented to do so, provided that all clergymen could attend, and on the floor were, during my address, some one thousand preachers. After my address I answered questions, and one was concerning my view of eternal punishment. I saw that the question was directed to a den to get the recognition of the old fashioned game of hell and damnation. So put it this way: "If any man does hell in the eternal, conscious torment of the wicked, he living in mirr and happiness the while, he is a monster, and so to believing he brings children into life, the earth into existence, and so to the creation of thousand people. I consented to do so, provided that all clergymen could attend, and on the floor were, during my address, some one thousand preachers. After my address I answered questions, and one was concerning my view of eternal punishment. I saw that the question was directed to a den to get the recognition of the old fashioned game of hell and damnation. So put it this way: "If any man does hell in the eternal, conscious torment of the wicked, he living in mirr and happiness the while, he is a monster, and so to believing he brings children into life, the earth into existence, and so to the creation of thousand people. I consented to do so, provided that all clergymen could attend, and on the floor were, during my address, some one thousand preachers. After my address I answered questions, and one was concerning my view of eternal punishment. I saw that the question was directed to a den to get the recognition of the old fashioned game of hell and damnation. So put it this way: "If any man does hell in the eternal, conscious torment of the wicked, he living in mirr and happiness the while, he is a monster, and so to believing he brings children into life, the earth into existence, and so to the creation of thousand people. I consented to do so, provided that all clergymen could attend, and on the floor were, during my address, some one thousand preachers. After my address I answered questions, and one was concerning my view of eternal punishment. I saw that the question was directed to a den to get the recognition of the old fashioned game of hell and damnation. So put it this way: "If any man does hell in the eternal, conscious torment of the wicked, he living in mirr and happiness the while, he is a monster, and so to believing he brings children into life, the earth into existence, and so to the creation of thousand people. I consented to do so, provided that all clergymen could attend, and on the floor were, during my address, some one thousand preachers. After my address I answered questions, and one was concerning my view of eternal punishment. I saw that the question was directed to a den to get the recognition of the old fashioned game of hell and damnation. So put it this way: "If any man does hell in the eternal, conscious torment of the wicked, he living in mirr and happiness the while, he is a monster, and so to believing he brings children into life, the earth into existence, and so to the creation of thousand people. I consented to do so, provided that all clergymen could attend, and on the floor were, during my address, some one thousand preachers. After my address I answered questions, and one was concerning my view of eternal punishment. I saw that the question was directed to a den to get the recognition of the old fashioned game of hell and damnation. So put it this way: "If any man does hell in the eternal, conscious torment of the wicked, he living in mirr and happiness the while, he is a monster, and so to believing he brings children into life, the earth into existence, and so to the creation of thousand people. I consented to do so, provided that all clergymen could attend, and on the floor were, during my address, some one thousand preachers. After my address I answered questions, and one was concerning my view of eternal punishment. I saw that the question was directed to a den to get the recognition of the old fashioned game of hell and damnation. So put it this way: "If any man does hell in the eternal, conscious torment of the wicked, he living in mirr and happiness the while, he is a monster, and so to believing he brings children into life, the earth into existence, and so to the creation of thousand people. I consented to do so, provided that all clergymen could attend, and on the floor were, during my address, some one thousand preachers. After my address I answered questions, and one was concerning my view of eternal punishment. I saw that the question was directed to a den to get the recognition of the old fashioned game of hell and damnation. So put it this way: "If any man does hell in the eternal, conscious torment of the wicked, he living in mirr and happiness the while, he is a monster, and so to believing he brings children into life, the earth into existence, and so to the creation of thousand people. I consented to do so, provided that all clergymen could attend, and on the floor were, during my address, some one thousand preachers. After my address I answered questions, and one was concerning my view of eternal punishment. I saw that the question was directed to a den to get the recognition of the old fashioned game of hell and damnation. So put it this way: "If any man does hell in the eternal, conscious torment of the wicked, he living

